MAIN STAFF CAR PARK – ILLEGAL TURNS

There have been some recent reports of cars making right hand turns into the main staff car park between 8am and 9am. It is illegal to make such turns during these hours and also between 3pm and 4pm. Please use the rear entrance behind the Hall to enter the car park during these hours. Alternatively drive around the roundabout at McLeod Road and then make a left hand turn into the school. The police and local council officers regularly patrol the streets surrounding our school to ensure the safety of our students.

ASTHMA MANAGING ASTHMA IN WINTER

Now that we are in the middle of Winter, you may find that asthma is flaring up more than usual. If you or a family member has asthma the following tips may be helpful:

- Visit your doctor for a review of your asthma and ensure that your Asthma Action Plan is up-to-date.

- Carry your medication at all times.

- Be aware that cold air can be a trigger for some people, especially children and older adults. Its effects can be anticipated and prevented by taking the necessary medication 10-15 minutes prior to exposure.

- Fires can be a real problem for some people who are sensitive to smoke. Be aware of smoke in your own home and also chimney smoke from neighbouring homes.

- There is an increased incidence of colds and viruses which can put increased pressure on the respiratory system and cause airway inflammation and trigger symptoms.

If an ‘Asthma Action Plan’ is not provided, school staff will follow the Victorian School’s Asthma Policy for asthma first aid which is a standard first aid protocol.

For a copy of a School Asthma Action Plan you can contact the school office. For further information about asthma you can call the Asthma Helpline on 1800 645 130 or visit the Asthma Foundation of Victoria’s website – www.asthma.org.au

Tips for staying active this winter!

Exercise Induced Asthma (EIA) is a common trigger for asthma. However, it does not need to be a barrier to Students participating in sports and physical activities.

Here are some tips to help prevent EIA in students:

Before Exercise take reliever medication 5-20 minutes before warming up.

Warm Up before exercise as normal.

During Exercise watch for asthma symptoms and administer reliever medication if they should occur. Only return to exercise if symptoms are relieved. If symptoms appear again, administer medication again, until they are relieved. It is not recommended that the Student should return to the sporting activity after a second occurrence of asthma symptoms.

After Exercise cool down as usual. Note that asthma symptoms can present up to a half an hour after exercise has stopped. Ensure reliever medication is still easily accessible should it be required.

Other things to remember:

- Ensure all students have current Asthma Action/Care Plans

- If possible make activities that are scheduled for the night indoors as the drop in air temperature makes air colder to inhale and acts as a greater trigger.

- Encourage students with asthma to participate fully!

Weekend writing
On the weekend I was getting dressed in my Elsa dress and I went shopping at Kmart and I went shopping with my Elsa dress. It was fun and we got popcorn. I went in my cubby house. Then my Mum called me for dinner and I watched TV. Then I went to bed.

My Story…
My throat is raw and dry from hours of screaming. My mind can’t get away from the fact that I’m trapped. Hours have passed maybe even days, my face is wet and sticky from my dried tears. I feel like I am just waiting to die, there is truly no hope for me. I am going to die.

I try thinking of other things, happy things like my home, my family, my friends. I close my eyes and rewind to the beginning, the beginning of when everything started going wrong....

For a long time things were pretty much perfect. We lived in an apartment in the city, mum had a really good job working for a big company and dad worked at home cooking and cleaning. When I was just seven years old we found out mum had cancer, two weeks after I turned eight mum died in her sleep. After mum passed away dad searched everywhere for work but couldn’t get any. So he decided to go overseas and look for work and sell the few things we still had left.

It had been a couple of years since dad had left us when we received a letter saying that dad had had a stroke and later died from being in a coma. For a long time I didn’t do much except think about the fact that both my parents had died. Gran had put me in a new school, I hadn’t made any friends, I didn’t eat much, I didn’t talk much, really I didn’t do anything. One day gran sat me down and said to me “Tori, you are so strong, I don’t know anyone who could go through what you’ve been through and not die of Sadness, but you have to be so strong, stronger than you’ve ever been before.” So the next day I shocked everyone in my grade by having a smile on my face.

Senior school
Maisy N — 5C

I became really good friends with these two girls from my French class, Bree and Tania. We were the top students in our French class so our teacher told us we should go on the school trip to France. I thought it would be a great opportunity so I asked gran and she said yes. Bree and Tania were allowed to go too.

Next month we got on the plane to France and disaster struck. I don’t know what happened but all of a sudden we started falling, falling faster and faster until we hit land. I don’t know if anyone else survived or if I will even survive. This is my story and this is how I got here although I’m not entirely sure where here is yet.

I have lost my voice from screaming so much. It is starting to get really hot and my eyes are beginning to close so I let myself drift off to sleep……

I wake up; suddenly startled by a banging noise. ‘BANG!’ There it is again. Am I going crazy? Or is there really something banging? All of a sudden the metal that has been trapping me in is suddenly ripped away. “Aarrrghh” I hear myself scream, white blinding light is all around me I can’t see anything. The light is so bright. My mind is going foggy, everything around me seems to be swirling. Someone or something grabs me by the arm and pulls me up. They let go of me, but my legs aren’t strong enough and I collapse. He pulls me up again and drapes my arm around his shoulders to support me.

My eyes are beginning to adjust to the light; I strain them to see who it is that has helped me. It’s a man in a safety vest; I can hear a really loud whirring sound. The man picks me up and carries me. The noise is getting louder and louder. We go up a few steps and a door closes behind me. The man puts me on a seat next to a boy fast asleep and explains to me that the plane I was on crashed in a jungle in Africa and that me and the boy sitting next to me were the only survivors. I am utterly speechless. They give me some water, an energy bar, a packet of nuts and some earphones to block out the sound of the helicopter I am currently sitting in. They tell me to get some rest. I am so exhausted I just drift to sleep; all I want to do is wash away this whole experience and start again…

Parents withdraw from children's education is a big problem these days as increasingly parents are worn out from working too hard or being involved in a variety of activities. By the time you get home from work or doing other activities you are spent.

But the message for parents is clear – become involved in as many aspects as practical in your child's education. The involvement of parents helps break down the mystique about school that can exist for some children. Their chances of success are better when they see school as an extension of home rather than merely an institution for learning.

Positive parent participation demonstrates to children that you value learning as well as their school. Children copy many of their parents' views so your positive attitude to school and learning is catching.

Many primary schools offer parents classroom jobs such as hearing kids read, taking small groups in elective activities and assisting children when writing stories.

Parent participation is much broader than helping out in the classroom. There is a range of simple ways to assist teachers to maximise the learning of your child. These include; hearing young learners read, helping with homework and making sure kids go off to school happy, healthy and with plenty of sleep.

Here are some more ideas to help you participate in your child's education in positive ways:

✓ Find out what your school is trying to achieve for your child and show your support for its aims. Discover what sets your child's school apart from others.

✓ Support a broad, balanced curriculum that offers children a variety of educational experiences rather than a program that focuses narrowly on the traditional 3 R's.

✓ Direct constructive criticism through the correct channels such as your child's teacher, the principal or the school's governing body. Gossip or thoughtless criticism within the general community can easily tarnish a school's reputation.

✓ Become an advocate for your child's school and promote its positive features throughout the wider community. Encourage your child to take pride in their school through your example.

✓ Attend school activities such as open days, concerts, sports events and celebrations. Invite other members of the community along as well.

✓ Consult with your child's teacher about practical ways that you can assist both at home and at school.

Positive parent participation in school and learning is a proven criterion for student success. One practical way to assist your child as a learner is to become actively involved in his or her school-life.
